Applicants were recently informed about the evaluation results for their proposals. The information above is correct as of the recruitment reference date.

The number of proposals that will ultimately be funded depends on the available budget for each research theme, and the formal process of employment by the host institute.

It is expected that the first fellowships will begin in March 2018

Information on the selected projects will be published on the programme website, www.edge-research.eu after that date.
