B. Evaluation and Selection

8. As with all aspects of the EDGE programme, we will implement an Evaluation and Selection process for the recruitment of EDGE Fellows that is transparent, equitable and fully aligned with the principles of Charter and Code the Charter and Code¹.
9. Evaluation criteria, ranking processes and cut-off thresholds are detailed in the Guide for Applicants. There are two stages to the process: independent review and interview:
 - a. Each eligible application will be evaluated by three independent reviewers
 - b. If selected for interview, applicants must be available to attend, by their own choice, either an interview in Trinity College Dublin or an interview remotely by videoconference on the date requested.
10. No preferential evaluation will be gained by attending in person or via videoconference. Travel and accommodation expenses to attend an interview in person will not be provided unless in exceptional circumstances. Documentation support to enable applicant travel may be offered.
11. After interview you may be required to show original certificates of any qualifications listed on your application (in order to verify authenticity), proof of identity and any other relevant documentation
12. EDGE will endeavour to ensure that reviewers and interview panel members do not have any conflict of interest related to the applications they are assessing. Reviewers and interview panel members will have to accept a Code of Conduct and sign Conflict of Interest declaration for each application they assess.
13. All eligible applicants will be issued details of their ranking and constructive feedback after the independent review and interview (if selected for interview)
14. All candidates have a right to redress. Requests can be made with regards to evaluation procedures that were followed and/or to the application of the evaluation criteria. Applicants must submit their request within 30 days of being notified of their evaluation outcomes (eligibility review, remote review, interview, selection).
15. Requests with regards to the scientific judgement of reviewers at any stage will not be taken into consideration. Redress Committee decisions are final.

C. The Offer

16. The offer to successful candidates comes in two parts:
 - a. Award of the fellowship by EDGE, following the Evaluation and Selection process (on the date of recruitment)
 - b. An offer of employment by the host institution, conditional on a written response from two referees, from which previous work history listed on your CV can be verified. Applicants are requested to include contact details for at least two referees when submitting the application. Referees will not be contacted prior to the award of a Fellowship.
17. The applicant will be required to accept each part of the offer, the award and the employment offer, in writing, within 7 days of receiving each respective notification. Accepting the award at the first stage does not commit the applicant to accepting the employment offer from the host institute
18. In the unlikely event that the host institute is not able to support the Fellowship, and the EDGE management cannot find an alternative acceptable host, the award of the fellowship may be

- withdrawn. Similarly, the host institutions also reserve the right to withdraw an offer if the programme is withdrawn for any reason, or if an error has been made by the host institution.
19. Personal data in addition to that already supplied during the application may be required by the host institution to complete the offer of employment
 20. It is expected that successful Fellows will start the Fellowship at the earliest convenience, considering any periods required to gain permission to work in Ireland and to agree terms and conditions between Trinity College Dublin and the Host institute. A start date will be negotiated with the Fellow and stated in the offer of employment.
